

Five Hypothetical Alternatives for Theism Regarding the Issue of Evil (Norman Geisler)

1. God could have created nothing at all.
2. God could have created only beings who were not free.
3. God could have created beings who were free to sin but did not sin.
4. God could have created beings who were free but must sin.
5. God could have created beings who were free to sin and did sin.